Ghazan Khan (1295-1304) was the first Il-Khanid ruler to convert to Islam. He gave the following speech to the Mongol-Turkish nomad commanders, a speech that was probably drafted by his Persian wazir Rashiduddin and included in the ministers letter:

“I am not on the side of the Parsian peasantry. If there is a purpose in pillaging them all, there is no one with more power to do this than I. Let us rob them together. But if you wish to be certain of collecting grain and food for your tables in the future, I must be harsh with you. You must be taught reason. If you insult the peasantry taken their oxen and seed and trample their crops into the ground, what will you do in the future? ..... The obedient peasantry must be distinguished from the peasantry who are rebels.”
